'Remember The Mud' Cry Echoes At Council Meeting

Council Gets Mud Petition

A representative of some 50 Daly City homeowners whose homes were threatened during the recent deluge and mud slides showed up Monday night before the City Council to ask for help.

Sheldon Prezant, 798 Higate drive, Daly City, bearing a petition signed by 50 homeowners on Higate, descended on the Council in an effort to determine who is to blame for the slides and who can help the homeowners.

Councilman Frank Pacelli indicated that the slopes behind the homes that are threatening to give way are part of the State Division of Highways, and that it is that State office that should be contacted.

Councilman Joe Verducci questioned Prezant about the petition.

"It is strange that a candidate for office (Prezant is one of 10 candidates for the City Council) should have a list of 50 names when not one call was received by the city manager during the trouble."

Prezant indicated that the City could not be notified during the trouble because it was Sunday, and "you people aren't available on Sunday.'

"What about Monday," said Pacelli.

The Council seemed to think that Prezant was using the mud problem as a political football. Prezant thought he was getting the bum's rush.

"I have not come here to be ridiculed," he said at one point, "We have a problem and we need your help."

Mayor Bob St. Clair stated that no one was being ridiculed, but that the City should have been notified when the trouble began. The city engineer's office indicated that calls were received from Tom Stanghellini at 210 San Fernando way, asking for help, but that no report of trouble came from the Higate homeowners.

Most of the concern now is about the power poles that stretch in an easement along the foot of the highway slopes. If the slopes slide more they could knock the poles over and endanger the homes and the occupants.

Mayor St. Clair said that the City will notify the State Division of Highways and await a report. "If they won't act we will send our own city engineer to inspect the premises and see what can be done."

NURSERY SCHOOL

A group of citizens representing the Village Nursery School addressed the Council asking for help in relocating their school, soon to go for a new highway propect.

R. D. Powell, 809 Skyline, read a statement from the group asking that the City provide a facility that the school can use. City Attorney Paul Hupf indicated that the City will get together with the Jefferson Union High School District to try and find the nursery school a new home.

OTHER ACTION

In other action the Council:

Awarded a $31,118 resurfacing contract to Reichhold and Jurkovich Co., low bidder for the Daly City resurfacing program contract.

Awarded to low bidder FF & M Co. a $4,633 contract for the paving of Northridge Park parking area.

Awarded to low bidder Bragato Paving Co. a contract for paving of the Westlake Sump grounds.

Awarded to Neville Ford Co. a $3,894 contract for a replacement dump truck.

Heard a report from City Finance Director Joe Arch indicating that all city departments are well within their budget allocations for the year.

CITY CHARTER

Just prior to adjournment Mayor St. Clair instructed City Attorney Hupf to make a report to the Council on the advisability of adopting a charter form of government.

"We would like you (Hupf) to give us an unbiased report on whether a charter government is the right thing for Daly City,' said the Mayor.

Hupf promised to return a general outline explaining the charter form, and also the various methods of adopting a charter.

Bruce Selmi Suicide From Dope Overdose

Bruce Selmi, 26-year-old son of a former Daly City mayor, was found dead in his family's car Feb. 25 in San Francisco, the apparent victim of a narcotics overdose.

The body of Bruce Selmi was found in a parked automobile near the entrance of Alemany Emergency Hospital following a telephone call to Central Emergency Hospital from an unidentified woman.

Police said the woman telephoned Emergency Hospital about 1:15 p.m. and asked that her call be transferred to Alemany. She told hospital steward Sam Rascon "There's a boy in a car next to Alemany Hospital. He's dead from an over-jolt." Then the woman hung up.

Attendants found young Selmi slumped on the seat of a car registered to his father, Paul G. Selmi, prominent Daly City realtor and civic leader who has served terms as mayor and city treasurer.

The victim was a onetime seaman who was employed as a barber in Cupertino. He had been arrested or minor offenses in San Francisco and Daly City, and in 1957 was sentenced to 60 days in jail and three years probation for a San Francisco burglary.

Doctors who examined the body said they found needle marks on the victim's arms. An autopsy was ordered to determine the time and precise cause of Selmi's death.

Officers who searched the car said Selmi's companions apparently went through his possessions, in an apparent attempt to get rid of evidence of some kind.

All the burglaries occurred not later than 8 p. m. in unlit homes, police stated. Homes burglarized include the following: Clifford Horton, 265 Avalon drive; Manuel Grant, 18 Belcrest drive; William Gardener, 10 Belcrest drive; Eugent Vansandt, 425 South Mayfair, and Richard Henning, 150 Lincoln avenue. Niel E. Fahy, 1425 South Mayfair, also reported a prowler in his basement.

House Burns After Party; Arson Intimated

Police were investigating the possibility of arson in the early morning fire in an abandoned house at 273 Niantic Feb. 22 in which two firemen were injured.

The building, condemned by the state division of highways in connection with the widening of Junipero Serra freeway, caught fire at about 3 a.m. A S.F. "fraternity" which had been using the building as a clubhouse, had been ejected about an hour earlier, on complaints of a wild party.

Injured when a second floor collapsed were firemen James Dresser, 28, of 83 Carmel avenue, and volunteer fireman Andrew Conati, 47, of 372 Bellevue avenue. Both were treated at Junipero Serra Hospital. Dresser received minor cuts and bruises and a cut lip requiring three stitches. Conati, suffered a severe hip injury and multiple cuts and bruises.

Firemen reported the old residence was totally destroyed by the blaze, which started in the basement and spread through the building to the roof within seconds.

Police said the building was apparently rented to unidentified persons, apparently a college fraternity.

Woman Is Victim Of Sex Pervert

A Crestwood drive housewife was the victim of a sadistic sex pervert Feb. 24 who entered her home on the pretext of using her services to type manuscripts.

The man, described as between 38 and 45 and having bushy hair protruding from his nostrils, allegedly threatened with a large hunting knife to kill her and her child.

Police said the man was carrying manuscript papers. He asked the woman to read the papers. She did so until she read the words. "Do what I say or I will kill you and your baby!"

The hysterical woman told officers the man choked her and made her drink whiskey, forced her to disrobe and was scared off when neighbors spotted him through a window.

It Used To Rain Pigs!

"The rain's nothing now; I remember 25-30 years ago seeing 300 pound hogs come sliding down the hill from the old Callan Hog Ranch."

This little bit of post mortem comfort came from A. G. Shinazy, Daly City resident since 1919, and a long-time watcher of precipitation.

"It's a lot different than it was in those days," said Shinazy. "For some reason the rainfall has been falling off steadily for the past few years. We used to get about 30 inches a year, then it dropped to 29 and 27, and now we're down to about 17."

Shinazy claims that it's the

H. Liebes Store Opens In Westlake Shop Center

Golden California colors and the horseless carriage provided the theme when the 98-year-old firm, H. Liebes, opened its new store in the Westlake Shopping Center at 12:30 p. m. on Feb. 21.

In it were the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Santos, members of the San Francisco Horseless Carriage Club. Five pretty girls in turn-of-the-century costumes, Mrs. Lawrence McCaffrey and Mrs. James McKeever, were passengers.

Two five-year-old girls, Joanne Liebes and Leslie Michel, in identical gold flowered dresses, rolled out a welcome mat. As the doors of the new store opened, models wearing 1962 fashions in shades of gold, came out. Windows of the new store displayed beflowered replicas of antique cars.

Lisa Mae Wagner, born on Feb. 19 to the Richard H. Wagners, 1807 Sweetwood drive in Broadmoor, is the new H. Liebes store's new baby.

The new Miss Wagner will be given a Christening party by the store, and plenty of baby party clothes. The new baby's mother will receive a party dress and hat, valued to $150.

Students Learn Heart Facts At M. Pauline Brown School

Do you know as much about your heart as a fifth grader?

Odds are that you don't, but to ease your situation, the fifth and sixth grade students of M. Pauline Brown School will participate in a demonstration of their classroom-acquired knowledge Thursday evening, March 8, at the M. Pauline Brown PTA meeting.

The youngsters have perused the ways and wherefores of heart health with their teachers, Mrs. Eleanor Blackman and Larry Anderson, in a special project over the past several months.

They will be presented in a classroom-situation quiz and will show charts and diagrams of their own creation depicting heart health hints.

The unique project was conducted under the watchful eye of Jefferson Elementary School District health co-ordinator Helen Delafield.

Also on the PTA program will be a panel of four medical doctors who will enlarge on the pupils' prognoses and make themselves available for audience questioning.

As a special treat, the Bel-Tone singers of Daly City will also appear.

The M. Pauline Brown School is located at 305 Eastmoor avenue, near St. Francis Heights. All interested parents, friends and neighbors, as well as PTA members, are urged to attend the 7:30 p. m. program, which has been planned as a service to the community in the dissemination of heart health information.

HEART PROTECTION through education is the goal of fifth-graders David Stewart, Christine Hill and Margaret Patteson at the M. Pauline Brown School. Their studies and charts will be on display at the March 8 meeting of the M. P. Brown PTA, when children and doctors join to present an evening of vital heart discussion.

covered from their apartment, including television sets, hi-fi set, money, jewelry, coins, etc. About $2,000 worth of loot has been recovered.

The suspects have admitted to burglaries ranging from the Daly City-Broadmoor area to San Jose. The two suspects had succeeded in burgling five homes Tuesday night.

Officers noticed their parked car, trailed it as it pulled to a curb at a stop light and arrested the pair at gunpoint. One suspect was armed with a .38 caliber revolver.

Daly City police and Chief Savage of Broadmoor worked out the burglars' method and hours of operation from 5 to 9 p.m.

Police of the two communities then set up a coordinated evening patrol. On Monday night, five burglaries were committed before Lieutenant Hansen and Inspector James Bergstrom of Daly City, patroling in an unmarked car, nabbed the Riveras in the Westlake area.

The brothers said they used a 1952 sedan and a 1958 car with Pennsylvania license "to confuse police."

They said they would first knock on a front door to make sure no one was at home, then enter by a side or rear window or rear door, using prying tools when necessary.

The driver of the car, Howard Leroy Kocher, 46, of 131 Albion street, San Francisco, told police he was driving south on Mission street on the green light and was looking for an address on his left when he heard a "bump."

Then he said he saw the woman lying in the street.

Krocher was cited for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

Study Or Action?

Day by day this city gets a bit closer to what it started to consider just about two years or more ago. And that was a charter form of government for the City of Daly City.

As the city continues to grow in an ever-expanding manner, with prospects of becoming the largest city in San Mateo County, it seems quite evident that sooner or later it must adopt a charter form of government.

Members of the city council Monday night went on record for the immediate reconsideration of another charter study. Also another group, presently opposing some of the council members on the political front, have stated they are in favor of a charter form of government.

Frankly it seems time to begin action on this matter rather than waste too much study time on it. Action usually infers a "do it now" approach, while study seems quite vague — something that could be put off indefinitely.

A Peoples' Lobby?

As the political battles begin to get warmer on city, county, state and national levels, we wonder if our forefathers didn't forget something when they established our present forms of democratic government. They forgot to establish a Peoples' Lobby!

Sounds strange, doesn't it? However it could be true. With lobbyists by the hundreds (professionals at that) doing their best to influence legislation for the benefit of the firms or organizations which pay their salaries, it seems high time that John Q. Public got in on the deal.

With ever-increasing inflation, taxation and bureaucracy, it seems about time for the average citizen to become more aware of how legislation is influenced by lobbyists.

From bananas to booze and girdles to grapefruit, we have an army of paid professional lobbyists doing their best to influence legislation—so why shouldn't John Q. Public get on the band wagon with his own lobby—and beat 'em to the punch?

Comes That Time Again!

Whether the selected Federal income tax return is the "shortie" 1040A or regular 1040, many taxpayers forget some important items, Joseph M. Cullen, District Director of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in San Francisco, advised today.

Some of these are: 1) failure to attach W-2; 2) no signatures; 3) tax information not readable; 4) failure to list dependents and exemptions, and 5) failure to total deductions.

What happens when the Internal Revenue Service receives an illegible or incomplete return? Cullen said this type of return cannot be properly processed and will delay the issuance of any refund due the taxpayer.

Director Cullen suggested that the taxpayer review his return as soon as it is completed, put it aside overnight, then review it once again the next day. After he is sure it is clear, complete and correct, mail it to Director of Internal Revenue, 100 McAllister street, San Francisco, California.

It Could Happen Here

"In a community, not unlike yours, a six-month-old girl crawled up to a lamp cord and placed it in her mouth. Small, almost invisible cracks in the insulation allowed the moisture of her mouth to conduct the current through her body."

Dr. Albert H. Domm, leading child safety spokesman and medical director for the Prudential Insurance Company in the Western United States, cited this unfortunate incident in warning this community's parents about the dangers of electricity in the home.

"Electricity, although one of the greatest household servants, can endanger your children," Dr. Domm said. "However, parental vigilance can eliminate or minimize the hazards," he added.

"Cover sockets not in use to prevent curious children from probing with pieces of metal," he urged. He also advised that parents unplug appliances such as toasters or washing machines to safeguard their children from shock or mangling.

FIRE ACTS

This article is written by Daly City firemen, and is published with the purpose of keeping the public informed about the fire department, its duties and associated activities.

What constitutes an emergency? The dictionary defines the word emergency as "An unforseen combination of circumstances which calls for immediate action." To some, an unforseen difficulty may be a slight irritation, but to others the same problem might be a grave emergency. An example would be a water heater pilot light going out. To most of us this is a minor inconvenience but to an elderly person or one who is a physically handicapped person this would be an emergency and should be treated accordingly.

Naturally a fire or someone having difficulty breathing is certainly an emergency in anyones book and no time should be lost in going to the nearest fire alarm box or in dialing PLaza 5-4212.

But aside from these two major and most common types of emergencies let's discuss the minor ones.

You have probably read or heard of some of the emergencies we have handled. Cats seem to always wind up on top of a telephone pole, behind the stove or in the dishwasher. Birds have their share of the problems with their bird cages. Once with the cooperation of the Police Dept. we removed two bats from someone's bedroom, or maybe your child may stick his hand to far into the cookie jar.

During the past week we have had emergencies that are not common in Daly City. The emergencies were created by days of stormy weather. Due to high winds homeowners lost windows or parts of their roofs, and in some areas water caused mud slides. Some of these people had the good sense to call us. We have the equipment and the knowledge to prevent your home from recieving more damage.

Just last Thursday the Daly City Fire Department went outside of the city limits into the Broadmoor area to assist the Colma Fire Department in their efforts to prevent a home from being buried under tons of mud. We all should be proud that this city is willing to extend a helping hand to another when needed.

Quite often when we do arrive to assist someone with their child, pet or to climb through their window they are embarrassed or apologetic. There is no need for anyone to feel this way.

For those of you who might experience some sort of a difficulty and hesitate to call or may be embarrassed to do so remember this, your fire department is here and paid for by you to protect your "life and property." You pay our salary and buy our equipment so why not use us. Never hesitate to call us when you are experiencing what you feel is an emergency. We might not be able to solve all of your problems but we will certainly try. Not only are we professional fire fighters but you could say we are a cross between the Coast Guard and the Boy Scouts.

As we have said before, most firemen receive great deal of satisfaction in knowing they have done something constructive for the citizens of this community.

So again, don't hesitate or be embarrassed to call us when you have an emergency. The telephone number again is PL 5-4212.

During the period of February 11 to February 17 your Fire Department responded to the following calls:

Auto accident, 1; auto fire, 2; electric fire, 2; false alarm, 4; inhalator, 3; lock outs, 10; rubbish fires, 1; storm damage, 6; and washdowns, 1.

Thought For The Week: Store ashes in metal containers until they are taken away.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

Members of the county advisory committee on redistricting have decided to set their sights on a redistricting proposal that could be acted upon in 1964.

The plan for reapportionment, presented to the committee by W. Mark Sullivan of the San Mateo County Democratic Council, provides that none of the districts would have less than 17 per cent of the total population. This would assure that any majority of three supervisors would represent a majority of the county population.

Sullivan proposed that the county board of supervisors submit a charter amendment to the electorate in the June election which would make redistricting mandatory every 10 years.

This would include the 17 per cent feature.

The Sullivan group has also proposed that a charter amendment be submitted in the November general election. This would make supervisors elective in their own districts. At present, they are elected at large by all of the voters in the county.

The Democratic Council's plan would take Supervisors James V. Fitzgerald and William Werder out of their districts.

Sullivan has suggested that if any supervisors were redistricted out of their districts they would not lose their jobs until the end of their terms and they could move their residences in the meantime.

Something For Everyone

by Samuel Chandler

"I'm so sick of pedants and conceited little tearer-downers I could scream. I'm sorry, but I am," declared the bewildered heroine in Salinger's Franny and Zooey. In different contexts the same statement is made by characters in Norman Mailers' The Naked and the Dead, Arthur Miller's Death of the Salesman, Tennessee William's A Streetcar Named Desire, and Allen Drury's Advice and Consent. Today's writers are offering revolt other than revolt against ugliness and superlatives. They are concerned with the culture failures of Aermica and with pressures that stifle the spirit of man.

They say that modern man has two lives. One is the shallow front and phony sophistication that he wears each day. The other is his invisible life that places a high premium on conducts, ethical problems, expression of the appetites, timeless values. These writers call for directional signs that will lead us to a culture that will welcome the expression of this invisible life.

So they are interested in interpretating the invisible life with its introspection and its Freudian aspects. If we keep this in mind as we read the modern contemporary novels, we will enjoy them much more. We will cease to be offended at the profanity of some characters and the pictures of the shallowness and ugliness that they paint for us.

Among the works of today's novelists these are some that have been acclaimed: Jones, From Here to Eternity; Faulkner, The Mansion; Dos Passos, The Great Days; Steinbeck, The Short Reign of Peppin IV; Salinger, Franny and Zooey; Ross Lockridge Jr., Raintree County; Norman Mailer, The Naked and the Dead; Durrel, Justine and the Sequels, Salinger, Franny and Zooey, Catcher in the Rye, and all the stories about the Glass family; Robert Penn Warren, Band of Angels, World Enough and Time: Hemingway, The Old Man and the Sea.

There are many more, more than I can list. They say with a loud voice that this is a suitable time for inventory and appraisal rather than criticism and change.

Letters To The Editor

Takes Issue With Crossing Guard Letter

Editor, Westlake Times
Dear Sir:

In answer to Mrs. Sutton's letter published in your paper of Feb. 14th, I can not and will not let it pass without an answer.

I can only answer for the guards at 87th & Washington Sts., and give the facts as I know them. Quite to the contrary, we have had only favorable comments from the schools, the Broadmoor Police, the PTA and the parents of Broadmoor school children, except for one relief crossing guard who was recently dismissed for the use of a beverage on the job.

Was Mrs. Sutton's letter provoked by the fact that this particular guard was dismissed or is she really sincere about the taxpayers' money?

In defense of the woman guard criticized by Mrs. Sutton, considering the types of weather the crossing guards are forced to work in, I see no reason why an all-weather coat and a pair of slacks is not suitable attire. The safety of the children is more important than the type of clothing worn by the guards.

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

. . . and the criminal returned to the scene of his crime . . .

The burglar climbed through the front window. He raped the lone female householder. He availed himself of his victim's money and her car keys. He left the scene in style, behind the wheel of his victim's automobile.

The investigating officers methodically ran through all leads and clues. Considerable information was amassed, but no major progress was made toward apprehending the responsible person.

The automobile was recovered in San Francisco, following a hit-run accident. The driver escaped by fleeing on foot; however, a partial description was obtained from witnesses. Teletypes were out. No fingerprints of value could be located.

Investigators had established an excellent modus operandi picture of the suspect's procedures — but they had no suspects in mind, and had no solid physical evidence. Several possible suspects had been ruled out through thorough, painstaking investigation.

The officers got a break—through an action which occurs often in the lore of criminology, but not so often in real life.

The suspect returned to the scene of the crime.

Patroling officers Stables and Culley became aware of the presence of a prowler on the same premises, in the post midnight hours two weeks later. In the darkness they located and apprehended their man. The suspect was caught before he got into the dwelling.

The suspect was Tyrone Albert Brown, and he denied everything.

As the investigation continued, Inspector La Bruzzo was summoned to assist. During normal "off-duty" hours, an inspector is always "on call." La Bruzzo had been "on call" at his home . . . and so he climbed out of bed and went to work.

Together, the three officers commenced to build their case. As investigation progressed, Tyrone Albert Brown looked more and more like the man who was wanted for the original offenses. Brown was booked. He was printed and mugged and lodged in a cell.

Still lacking solid physical evidence, the investigating officers put together a partial picture of circumstantial evidence—all of which linked Tyrone Albert Brown to the earlier crimes.

In his follow up investigation in the ensuing days, Inspector La Bruzzo completed the case. He had only circumstantial evidence — he had assembled fifteen separate sets of circumstances which tended to link the suspect with the original set of circumstances.

The District Attorney's Office issued a complaint on the matter, charging robbery, rape, burglary, and auto theft.

The suspect continued to deny everything; however, his statements were often at variance with established facts, and his statements proved to be an involved web of lies.

The investigating officers and the victim appeared in Judge Becker's Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing. Judge Becker ruled that there was reason to believe that the suspect had committed the felonies, and bound the suspect over to answer the charges in Superior Court.

The suspect and his attorney appeared in Judge Scott's Superior Court in Redwood City. Witnesses for both sides were present. The victim was there. The investigating officers were present. Deputy District Attorney Wilbur Johnson prosecuted the case. Twelve people were selected for the jury.

Johnson prosecuted ably. The Defense Attorney defended vigorously. All witnesses testified, as did the victim, the suspect, and the officers.

The suspect was informal in his demeanor. He seemed to think that the prosecuting attorney was "Daddy-o;" and he sometimes referred to Johnson as "man."

Both attorneys argued their case, and the matter went to the jury. The jury was out for six hours before deliberation was completed.

The jury found Tyrone Albert Brown guilty of one count each of burglary, robbery, rape, and auto theft. He is now awaiting sentencing.

MARY LEWIS GETS GV PTA AWARD

Caterpillars, rockets and Founders Day made for an exciting meeting of Garden Village PTA on Feb. 20.

". . . plants, fish and caterpillars may always be found in her classrooms, much to the youngsters delight. Many hours are spent in trekking to San Carlos, hunting caterpillars so that children from all grades may watch nature at work," said Mrs. John Pickens, introducing this year's recipient of the unit's honorary life membership — Mrs. Mary Lewis, third grade teacher at Garden Village School.

Mrs. Lewis, a native of this community and still a Colma resident, has a total of 22 years teaching experience, often devoting her lunch hours to helping children with study problems, and her Sundays to taking other teachers on tours of the Daly City-Colma area to assist them in planning field trips.

She has served on various committees for the Jefferson Elementary School District in demonstrating teaching methods and for several years worked with the Professional Growth and Evaluation Committee.

Mrs. Lewis is greatly admired by her pupils, as evidenced by the fact that older children from the upper grades often visit her, sometimes bringing newspaper articles pertaining to Daly City and Colma to her to check on their authenticity.

The theme of the Founders Day program presented by the kindergarten classes was "Happy Birthday, Garden Village PTA" with Mrs. Kinsey's class demonstrating their regular opening exercises and then presenting a large mural which they had made to Mrs. Jack Bertken, unit president.

As part of the business meeting, the nominating committee for the 1962-63 slate of officers was selected. Those nominated were Mrs. William Cloonan, Mrs. William Proctor, Mrs. Salvatore Scaduto, Mrs. Martin Tonnissen and Mrs. Warren Vocke.

Den 4 of Cub Pack 259 conducted the flag ceremony, with Mark McCaulau, Tobi Kasovan, Mike Coper, Billy Robbins, David Goldman and Billy Sherbert participating.

Refreshments were served to the children participating in the evening's program by the fourth grade represenatives, Mrs. C. Blake, Mrs. R. Esposto, Mrs. E. Rayqmond and Mrs. D. Shotts. Hostesses for the evening were first grade room representatives, Mrs. R. Chiosso, Mrs. W. Cloonan, Mrs. C. Fleischer, Mrs. J. McKay, Mrs. L. Pera and Mrs. G. Toibin, who served a beautifully decorated Founders Day cake at the end of the meeting.

The program will be presented by Mrs. G. E. Green, board member of the district. Topic: "Into the High Sierra," Illustrated. This is a timely and important subject.

Members of all district garden clubs, plant societies and garden sections are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Elem. Teacher Increase Cited

Jefferson Elementary School District enrollment studies show a predicted increase of 1183 pupils by the 1963-64 school year and hiring of 32 new teachers, Superintendent Richard L. Foster reported to trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night.

No increase in the maximum $2.50 tax rate is contemplated despite the increase, Foster said.

Plans for a six classroom addition, including a multipurpose room, a music room and lockers and showers to Colma school were approved.

Foster said the current average daily attendance of 8717 students should increase to 9300 in the 1962-63 school year and to 9900 during the 1963-64 school year. The number of teachers in the district is now 294, Foster reported.

Wyoming Youth Jailed On Gas Theft Counts

A 19-year-old Cheyenne, Wyo. youth was arrested Feb. 23 in South San Francisco on counts of stealing gasoline from service stations in San Bruno, San Mateo, Millbrae and Daly City.

The youth, Richard Ernest Moniz, 19, was arrested on a reckless driving charge by officers Doug McCool and James Datzman. Police said Moniz was driving at a high rate of speed and attempted to evade officers.

Moniz was lodged in San Mateo County jail on reckless driving and petty theft counts. Police said he was charged with driving into service stations, filling his car with gasoline and driving off.

DALY CITY POLITICAL PARADE

Micheal DeBernardi

Councilman Michael De Bernardi has announced the names of three prominent civic leaders who will head up his re-election campaign committee for the April 10th municipal election.

The veteran city official and former mayor, first elected to the council in 1954 and re-elected in 1958, said he has named Frank Monte of 1101 Southgate Avenue; Dino Tonelli, a druggest of 91 Windsor Drive, and Tony Masini, long-time Daly City resident and former member of the San Mateo County grand jury, to direct his campaign. Masini lives at 698 Hillside Boulevard.

De Bernardi said he will seek reelection on the record of his accomplishments and a program of continued progress and stable city administration.

"Strict adherence to business-like administration must be the prime objective of the city council," De Bernardi said.

"As our population continues to grow so will the demands for additional government service. However, the service granted must not be allowed to exceed the limits of what can be provided reasonably and economically.

"New challenges and problems will continue to arise and they must be met objectively, with insight and vigor and within the framework of economy and sound business practice.

"As an experienced Daly City businessman and incumbent councilman intimately familiar with city government, I pledge myself to such a policy."

De Bernardi, who served as mayor in 1958-59, said that one of the urgent needs is for a new civic center which would encompass a complex of modern buildings arranged to provide improved service and to accomodate the county offices and services the area deserves.

However, he added, such a building program must be worked out within the framework of the city administration's established "pay-as-you-go" policy and not be added to the city's phenominally low bonded indebtedness or reflected in the tax rate.

De Bernardi lives at 198 Lincoln Avenue with his wife and five children: Micheal, 16; Patricia Joan, 14; twins Mark and Matthew, 13, and Dawne, 6.

Monte said the first order of business will be to complete the organization of committees to represent every segment of the community.

"Already we have more than 200 volunteers from all over the city who are eager to begin work in the campaign," he said.

Edward J. Dennis

Lowell E. Durham, active Daly City community leader and president of the Hillside Improvement Association, has been named to head a committee working for the re-election of Councilman Edward J. Dennis. The city election is set for April 10.

Durham, who lives at 98 Royce Way, said he has appointed Herman Cohn, 250 North Mayfair Avenue, and Dan Casentini, 178 Edgemont Drive, to serve as co-chairmen of the committee.

"During his 12 years on the city council," Durham said, "Dennis has made many outstanding contributions to clean and efficient city government."

"It was during his tenure as mayor in 1960 that the council appointed Edward Frank as city manager. The choice was made on the basis of ability and qualifications in order to bring the best possible administrator to Daly City to manage the affairs of the rapidly expanding community.

"Frank's policies have brought stability to city administration and have placed Daly City on sound budgetary footing."

He pointed out that in recent years Dennis has been identified with a host of major projects including the improvement of Mission Street, made possible by obtaining $98,000 in state funds; support of a library expansion program and fire department improvements; park development and expansion, and a sound fiscal program that has kept the city's bonded indebtedness at less than one per cent of capacity.

"We are proud of the record of the present city council in its efforts to build a good, clean city for our residents and to provide opportunities for growth and development of our youth," Durham said.

"Dennis is dedicated to the continuation of these efforts and promises to work for the best interests of all of our citizens."

Dennis, a native of Daly City, lives at 99 Teresa Street with his wife, Hilda, and daughter, Carolyn, 20, a junior at San Francisco State College. A son, Edward Jr., 23, is with the U. S. Army in Europe.

For the past 15 years, Dennis has served as president and business representative of the Milk Drivers Union, Local 226 of San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Robert B. St. Clair

A desire to continue Daly City's policies of progressive, "pay-as-you-go" government and a necessity to maintain the healthy environment which makes it such an outstanding community were among the reasons given for the enthusiastic support being pledged for the re-election of Mayor Robert B. St. Clair.

Edward R. O'Donnell, well-known business executive and Daly City civic leader, has been named to head a committee of prominent residents who will work for St. Clair's return to the city council at the April 10 municipal election.

"In the four years St. Clair has served on the council, he has displayed a knowledge of government and administrative procedure equal to that of the football prowess which has won him national aclaim in the professional ranks," O'Donnell declared.

"His familiarity with key state officials and responsible leaders in neighboring communities have been instrumental in gaining wide recognition for the accomplishments that have made Daly City one of the most desireable places to live in the Bay Area."

O'Donnell pointed out that St. Clair is particularly aware of the needs of today's youth and has taken a lead in seeking expansion and improvement of Daly City's recreation facilities and programs.

St. Clair, popular offensive captain of the San Francisco Forty-Niners, lives at 76 Ocean Grove Avenue. He and his wife, Ann, have four children and are active in the Parent Teacher Association and the activities of Our Lady of Mercy Church. St. Clair also is active in Boy Scout and YMCA programs.

"As mayor, St. Clair provided the leadership that headed off state efforts to bisect Daly City with freeway routes," O'Donnell said.

"He is an unwavering advocate of sound management in city affairs and pledges a continuation of good government.

"The important thing for all Daly City residents, homeowners and parents to consider is that our community is clean, healthy and is a pleasant place to live and raise a family.

"This is a vital consideration and St. Clair can be depended upon to give his best efforts toward maintaining and furthering this desireable community climate."

Paris B. Simmons

It was recently stated in a San Francisco newspaper that the platform of two candidates for Daly City Council included a goal to "modernize the school system," of our community.

Two days ago, I was informed, from a reliable source, that the schools and the system would undergo a concentrated attack, during the current campaign for council, in an effort to gain votes.

Let me go on record, right now, as stating I am absolutely against the using of the schools or the school system as an issue of the current campaign for Daly City Council. The Constitution of the State of California, and subsequent legislative acts place the responsibility for the governing of the schools and system in the hands of the people, through elected representatives to the respective Boards of Trustees, of the various school districts. For a candidate for City Council to announce, as part of a basic platform, that the modernization of the schools or school system would be a major goal if elected, is to disregard or ignore the trust and responsibility placed by the voters in the members they elected to the schoolboard. Therefore, such a statement cannot be considered good politics, and certainly not good City Government.

The prime concern of the schools must be the education of the children attending. The concentration of all the professional staff should, at all times, be concentrated on this concern. To make an attack on the schools or system, as an issue of a City Council race, may only be classified as a definite disservice to the community, — for then the concentration must be taken away from the educational processes going on, to counter the attack.

The preceding statements in no way implies that there should not be criticism of the schools or system when merited. Such criticism is a healthy sign of interest. However, this criticism must be directed towards and to the Board of Trustees, the governing body of the school districts, who may do something about it, rather than the City Council.

One of the first things, this candidate will do if elected, will be to attempt a change in meeting dates of the City Council and Jefferson Elementary School District Board, so that they do not fall on the same evening, thereby allowing the voters to attend both meetings, if so desired.

The second item which will claim the attention of this candidate, if elected, is to provide for publication of the agendas of both the Council and the Board of Trustees, prior to each meeting, in the local papers. This will enable the community to give thought to the issues involved, and to take part, through attendance, in formulating good city government policies.

In conclusion, it should be pointed out that this candidate would encourage cooperative effort in any project that would benefit the people through the city council and trustees of the school districts. That they must to the welfare of the educational program of this community.

Noonan O'Haire Walker

Ever since the Callan Annexation election in August, 1960, the Chairman of Citizens Committee For Good Government, Fred J. Walker, steadfastly refused to run for public office.

This stand remained unchanged until just two days prior to the deadline for filing, when he was presented with a bundle of petitions signed by more than 2,100 Westlake residents who nominated him for councilman. The same petition circulators secured an equal number of endorsements for Thomas F. Noonan, who with Walker and Attorney Edward P. O'Haire make up the slate of three selected by the Citizens Committee.

The signatures were secured by door-bell ringers who worked for two days only in precincts where the population of the Noonan - O'Haire - Walker group was subjected to careful scruting and analysis by the campaign workers.

One of the fair sex who secured 400 signatures reports that only six residents refused to sign. Then unwillingly she called at the home of one of the incumbents—not knowing him by sight or name, until subsequently enlightened by a neighbor—but was unsuccessful in her attempts to get his signature on the Walker and Noonan petitions. He just said: "I really don't think I can sign it," reports the campaign worker, "but he didn't say why."

As the contest went into high gear, a call for volunteers was issued by the Citizens Committee. "We would like to add another 500 workers to our list," says Walker, "or twice the number who joined in the house-to-house campaign during the Callan Annexation election."

The campaign slogan of the committee is "Vote N-O-W" —the N-O-W representing the initials of the three candidates, Noonan-O'Haire and Walker. "After the election," says Walker, "we hope to reverse it and make it read W-O-N."

Election slogans are hard to come by, but the Citizens Committee For Good Government in Daly City found two the easy way, by simply using the initials of its three candidates —Noonan, O'Haire and Walker—to make up the slogan "N-O-W," which reads W-O-N when reversed.

By coincidence, none of the names of any of the other candidates begins with any of these three letters.

Founders Day Celebrated By C-P Group

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, Founders Day was commemorated by the Crocker-Pershing PTA in the multi-use room at George Washington School, 251 Whittier street.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Den 6 of Cub Scout Pack 62.

E. Dominion, assistant city engineer, spoke of the new Lincoln Park clubhouse and showed sketches of the interior and exterior. He also answered questions from the audience.

Mrs. A. Parodi, president, introduced the following area youth leaders who spoke briefly of their respective organizations: Mr. Hittel, Boy Scout leader; R. Garcia, Cub Scoutmaster, and Mrs. J. Calvin, Girl Scout leader. President Parodi spoke briefly honoring the PTA founders, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst. The organization was founded in 1897.

W. Petersen, honorary life-membership chairman, presented honorary life memberships to J. White and L. Anderson. White, a past president of Crocker-Pershing PTA, is very active in Scouting and is also a youth leader in his church. Anderson, presently teaching at the M. Pauline Brown school and a former member of the Crocker School faculty, is active in Scouting, PTA and teaches swimming to handicapped children.

Mrs. Parodi introduced the following guests: Mrs. F. Cunningham, president of the 17th district of the California Congress of Parent and Teachers; Mrs. D. Sears, 17th district director of organization, and Mrs. M. Plansky, president of Jefferson High School PTA.

The entertainment for the evening was presented by the 11 member dance band from Jefferson High school, under the direction of R. Larsen.

Motorcycle Officer Injured In Fall

Officer Richard Delosa, 390 Miriam street, received a bruised elbow and bruised right leg Feb. 22 when he fell off a motorcycle on Alemany boulevard east of Lake Merced boulevard.

He had just got on the motorcycle after stopping a violator and the clutch engaged suddenly, causing him to lose his balance. He fell to the ground pinning his leg beneath the motorcycle.

Demo Nominees

The Burlingame Intermediate School was the scene of the 1962 San Mateo County Democratic Convention last Saturday, Feb. 24.

Nominations for the standard bearers for the party in the Congressional race, and for Assembly candidates for the 27th (North County) and 26th (South County) contest were made.

William J. Keller, San Francisco newspaperman of Hillsborough, was the single nominee for the congressional seat, and won the convention's blanket endorsement.

Councilman Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco, a government instructor at Capuchino High School, and William F. Gately, attorney, of Millbrae, were both endorsed as candidates for the 27th A. D. seat, and will face each other on the Demo ticket in the June primary.

The same battle seems to loom for Dennis Woodman, attorney, of Redwood City, and Menlo Park engineer Don Barr, who were both endorsed for the 26th A. D. seat. More than 400 Democratic club members, members of the County Central Committee, and Demo office holders in the county heard State Senator Richard Richards, aspirant for the United States Senate seat of Senator Kuchel, speak out against Nixon and Kuchel.

The afternoon session opened with addresses by Assemblymen Jerome Waldie of Antioch and Philip Burton of San Francisco.

The dual endorsements of candidates for both Assembly districts came about through a close vote on suspension of convention rules, and both Ryan and Gately stated to the assembled Democrats that they wished the primary battle to be on a high level of qualifications and experience, and would give their wholehearted support to whichever of them won the primary.

Reports Given To Rotary Finance, Fire Police

The second in a series of reports from Daly City department heads to acquaint citizens with the operations of local government, was given Feb. 21 before the Daly City Rotary Club.

Participating were Finance Director Joseph Arch, Police Chief Roland Petrocchi and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Arch said that to effect tighter budgetary control of city funds, he is installing a voucher payable and cost accounting system which will make it possible to keep a constant detailed check of the city's financial condition.

He pointed out that the $2,802,911 balanced budget submitted by City Manager Ed Frank for the current fiscal year required a tax rate of $1.48 per $100 of the city's total assessed valuation of $54,000,000.

This rate is only three cents higher than last year's rate and only six cents ore than the city's first rate of $1.42 set in 1913.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi reported that the police department has purchased a radar unit to help maintain effective control of traffic, has instigated new training procedures and investigatory practices and has become one of the first departments to innovate a new reporting system by which officers phone in reports which are recorded on a dictating machine, saving manpower and giving more clarity to reports.

Fire chief Kennedy said that the fire department's training practices and a coordinated fire prevention program paid off in tax savings when the National Board of Fire Underwriters conducted a fire survey which resulted in an improvement in the city's insurance rating.

The Men Were Not Really 'Houseguests'

A Feb. 8 article "Houseguests Booked on Drunk Charges" in the Westlake Times, was incorrect on two points, according to Mrs. Alba Coon, 299 Wyandotte.

Mrs. Coon pointed out that two men arrested for disturbing the peace, Joseph A. Eagen, 31, of 208 Los Banos and Robetr T. DeRunge, 33, of 6929 Mission, were neither houseguests nor at a "lady friends" home, as mentioned in the article.

The men were arrested by officer Ralph Warren and Sgt. Ricco Benedetti.

Central American Education

Urge More Latin American Studies In Grade School

It is unfortunate that the social study books of our schools contain so few pages on the smaller Central American republics. A survey made shows that the maximum amount devoted to Central America, of sixth grade texts does not exceed 36 pages.

If Latin America is to be won for democracy, every attempt must be made to remedy this situation.

It is not enough to learn the cultures of Central America, or simply to teach them in our schools. We must present our way of life, our ideals and principles to these people, so that it negates any possibility of communism gaining control.

To this end, a current project of the writer and his eighth grade social study classes is in programm at the Benjamin Franklin School of this city.

The students aware of the vital importance these countries hold for the United States have written a book titled "A Teen-Ager View of the United States." This book will be distributed to schools throughout Central America, in exchange for compositions and essays on the views of students of the various Central American republics.

Included in the Banjamin Franklin book are such chapters as the United States judicial system, social security, armed forces, city government, United States stores, fads, customs and taxes. Each student has written one chapter, and within the framework of the chapter has shown how each ties in with our local community.

At the conclusion of this series, the articles appearing in this exclusive series will be evaluated and rewritten in a text for sixth graders, to help overcome the handicap mentioned in the first paragraph.

In addition, the series will be compiled in book form, at the conclusion, and presented to educational and civic leaders from Mexico to Costa Rica, for the purpose of displaying the desire of this community to understand and promote a Central American education.

Returning now to El Salvador, for a final glimpse before moving on to Honduras:

Because of the numerous plantations in El Salvador, it has achieved the name of "Garden Republic." A recent trend toward crop rotation and to give the country other exportable products, have resulted in the producing of cotton, sugar cane, cement and henequen or sisal fiber.

The monetary unit of the country is the colon, divided into 100 centavos. Because of the uprisings of governments, there is a great deal of fluctuation in the exchange rate. United States money, as in all the republics, is greatly desired..

Traveling through El Salvador, one is never out of sight of the volcanoes which run parallel to its 160 miles of coastline. Most of the volcanoes are extinct, but the San Miguel and Santa Aana still contain smoke in their cones.

San Salvador, the capital city, will undoubtedly hold the greatest interest for the tourist. While the downtown areas are quite crowded and the sidewalks very narrow, the suburbs may only be described as beautiful. San Salvador has a population of approximately 162,000, and is located 2,200 feet above sea level.

Plaza Bolivar is located in the heart of the city, and, of course, is the central square. One will view the national palace on a side of the square and the cathedral on the other, which is being restored after being destroyed by a recent fire.

On another side of the square is a new building, just being erected, which was of great interest. The building will house the National Bank.

Watching the construction work, the writer was impressed with the general lack of machinery. Scores of workers were engaged in the construction job, and busily placing spikes into the edifice with what appeared to be hammers or small mallets. With the population so heavy, it is easily understood why the building would be constructed with as much human labor as possible, and it is!

Ten miles south of San Salvador is a small colorful Indian village with the intriguing name of Pancimalco. One may spend several hours enjoying the colorful village with its ancient church, adobe huts and quaint costumes of the natives.

The Spanish conquered El Salvador in 1528, soon after their occupation of Guatemala. At this time, El Salvador became a part of the Captaincy General of Guatemala (mentioned in a previous article), and remained under Spanish rule for the next three centuries.

A priest, Padre Jose Matias Delgado, in the year of 1811 and 1814 led uprisings encouraging the people to gain their independence. This was finally realized in 1821, after a bloodless revolution. The country joined the Central American Union after the revolution, becoming an independent republic in 1839.

A colorful past, a beautiful, scenic country, a hospitable people, is this enchanting land of El Salvador.

Gardening Yen Broadens By Narrowing It

It's been said that one way to broaden a man's interest in gardening is to narrow it—to get him working with one type of plant only.

Soon he wants to know more about it, takes up growing it as a hobby and before you know it, he's hooked. His interest in all things horticultural begins to pick up.

Before you can work this deception on yourself or someone else, however, it is necessary to choose a type of plant that lends itself to hobbying.

The ideal hobby plant should be beautiful enough to warrant your attention in the first place and versatile enough to sustain it by producing new colors and forms over the years. It should also keep you busy enough, for a plant that demands no attention and care could hardly provide you with much of a hobby.

A list of such plants will not be overly long, but it will include some of the more familiar plant names — such as roses, camellias, tuberous begonias and African violets are hobby plants. So, too, are gladiolus, chrysanthemums, daffodils and tall bearded iris.

As we check this list, we see that all the plants named are not only beautiful but they are continually being improved upon by commercial nurserymen. This probably is the most important factor involved, for it meams that there will always be new varieties for the hobbyist to look forward to.

Offhand, we'd say that one of the first four named—roses, camellias, tuberous, begonias and African violets—is perhaps the best starting point for a budding Luther Burbank.

Ample literature is available through nurseries of members of the California Association of Nurserymen to provide instruction for growing any of these. And planted now, they will give fast results for the beginner to appreciate.

Camellias and African violets may be bought in full bloom now. Roses and beganias planted now will be blooming in a few short months. Or you can wait until either of the latter is available in bloom at a local nursery.

It won't be long, and seeing them in all their glory just naturally make a man want to grow them, whether he's ever grown anything else or not.

Daly City Players Dates Rescheduled

By William Heral

Due to a serious of unforseen and unfortunate situations, the dates and place of performance for the new Daly City Players production of three one-act plays has had to be changed to the evenings of Friday, March 23, and Saturday, March 24, at the Daly City War Memorial Bldg., Mission and Alp Streets.

"Trifles" by Susan Glaspell, previously scheduled as one of the three plays, has been replaced by "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion" by Tennessee Williams. The other two plays are: "Aria da Capo" by Edna St. Vincent; and "Impromptu" by Tad Mosel.

This trio was selected because they illustrate three of the basic struggles of mankind: Man and society; man and fate; and man and himself. All three plays have been staged without sets and with a minimum of props so as to better present the characters and their dialogue.

Some of the members of the casts are not new to Daly City audiences. William Hanna, Allen Miller and Danya Rookard have been seen in other Daly City Players productions.

The other actors have been selected from other theatrical groups in the bay area. Appearing for the first time in Daly City are; Sarita Kronquest, Dave Crommie, Bonnie Helmer, Karen Crommie, and Lee Williams.

The performances will open with Aria da Capo, in which are combined a classic Pierrot-Columbine farce and a tragic-drama of two shepherds manipulated by fate.

Following a short intermission, the second play will be The Lady of Larkspur Lotion. This is a drama involving the imaginary situations created by people who have failed in life.

It will be followed immediately by the third and final play, Impromptu, which as its title implies, concerns four actors who have been summoned to the theatre and ordered to do an impromptu performance by a mysterious stage manager.

These performances will be held at 8:30 p.m. the evenings of Friday, March 23rd, and Saturday, March 24th, at the Daly City War Memorial Building. Seating will be on a non-reserved basis and the general admission will be $1. Tickets may be obtained at the box office in the main lobby of the War Memorial Bldg. on performance nights.

They are as follows: president, Mrs. Graham Rumble; vice president, Mrs. Sam Kline; hon. vice president, Eugene Sunia; recording secretary, Mrs. Mark Hanna; corres. secretary, Mrs. Henry Hildebrand; treasurer, Mrs. William Dose; historian, Mrs. Richard Clennon; auditor, Max Petroff. TO DALY CITY CITIZENS:

Another election is upon us and it should be about time for the Citizen Defender to make an appearance in our mail-box. This interesting little gazette, with the question mark on the outside always signals another message from Zorro. . . . This Hitchcock touch is just about as ridiculous as the paper itself which fancies itself as Daly City's own Confidential Report, complete with the "under-cover" news and exposes! During the recent school board election it went a step further and recommended a candidate and my guess is that now, with success still warming the plates, they will throw caution to the winds and "save" Daly City with not "one" but "three" champions of the people."

This is a most curious newspaper. It seems to have no editor, no staff, no subscriptions or advertisers, yet it manages to come up with the Six Hundred ($600.00) Dollars necessary to bring it into our mail box — I wonder why? The big WHY is something to consider. Also the WHO — who decides the policy and just which candidates to endorse — Zorro again!! (Citizens Committee for Good Government!) WHO are THEY? Or more to the point, WHO were THEY?

We all know that the original members of the committee were organized to defeat the Callan Annexation. But when the issue was resolved who determined to continue this organization? Why did many well intentioned and conscientious members of this Committee publicly resign after the election? Was it because they discovered that they could not use one committee name for incorporation because one of the members had appropriated the committee name to his own use as a private business?

A great many citizens, caught up in the Annexation issue in the last election had no intention of having the Committee for Good Government march on as a third party "admiration society" for aspiring politicians. Instead, a few intend to slay more dragons and use the good influence of a group long since disbanded.

However, one cannot deny that "Citizens" implies more than one. In this case will the team of three non-incumbents use this name to endorse themselves?

Anyway, I can hardly wait for the mysterious voice from out of the fog — the so-called Citizen-Defender. . . . Will it tell ALL? Will it champion the downtrodden? Better yet, will it have a comic strip . . . (then the kids could enjoy it).

All the YW classes specialize in personal attention to individual problems.

Teen-age girls will be invited to join a special charm class for them entitled "You and Your Manners," to be given Monday evenings at Westmoor High School.

Combined with the time-lapse sections are brilliantly colored views of the many kinds of flowers that flourish in the West. Presenting a wide variety of flowers in their many natural settings, the half-hour movie gives viewers a relaxing "trip" through the West.

The garden section of the club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Howard, is hostess for the day.

Ministers Host At Brotherhood Lunch

As a prelude to the big Brotherhood rally last Sunday at the War Memorial building, the Daly City Ministerial Association hosted council members, the mayor and leading members of the community last Friday at a luncheon.

With Rev. Lynn Hodges as host at his own Westlake Community Baptist Church, the group listened to talks by Don Davis, manager of Westlake Penney's, and Rev. Herbert Tweedie, pastor of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

Then the guests were asked to comment on the state of brotherhood in Daly City. Setting the tone was Rabbi Robert Shapiro of Temple Judea, who pointed out that while community relations were improving, there was still room for improvement.

"I'm reminded of the one Negro family that moved into our area last year," said the rabbi. "In this large area of fine people, fine schools and fine churches, no one dared to come to their aid."

And Reverend Hodges, in his final remarks, reminded the aggregation that, "we must never allow Brotherhood Week to be used to salve the conscience of those that do not practice brotherhood the rest of the year."

Westlake Lutheran Altar Committee Has Active Role

The Altar Committee of Westlake Lutheran Church consists of 15 women. Several of these women served last year and will continue to do so for the remainder of this year.

They are Mrs. Clausen, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Janssen, Mrs. Keil, Mrs. LaChance, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Vinson and Mrs. Woodman. Newly appointed are Mrs. Dutcher, Mrs. Laingen, Mrs. Levig and Mrs. Phelps. These women are divided into teams of two and serve for one month at a time.

It is their duty to see that the flowers are arranged and placed on the altar. Flowers are presented by voluntary contributions from the members of the congregation.

A flower chart is on the bulletin board in the narthex, where members may write their names in the space for the Sunday of their choice. Following the service the flowers are sent to the sick.

These women prepare the Communion tray for the Communion services, which are held the first Sunday of every month. They also see that the proper color paraments for the season of the church year are in place on the altar.

If a baptism is to be held during the service, they prepare the baptismal font. Baptismal towels are made by the women of the church and presented to the parents of each child as a memento of its baptism.

Mrs. Clausen will again take care of the altar for our Lenten services, which will begin on March 7. Mrs. Burke will continue to be in charge of the alcolytes. The alcolytes are as follows: Jim Thompson, Jim Burke, Timmy Wooster, Bill Slocum and Russ Starbo.

The important place of the altar committee members in the working of the church cannot be overestimated. Proper care of the altar and its appointments is conducive to a more worshipful atmosphere during church services.

It is therefore necessary that members of the committee approach the task sensing its significance in the life of the church and its members. Mrs. Arthur Jaranson, charter member of the Westlake Lutheran Church, directs and coordinates the program of the committee.

JULIE LANDI WED TO RUDI QUERIN

On February 10, Miss Julie Landi was given in marriage by her father, Gino Landi, to Rudy Querin of San Francisco. The wedding took place at Holy Angels Church in Colma, with Father Long officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with white stock at each pew, and the altar was decorated with gladolias. The ceremony took place at 2 p.m., with a reception immediately following at Forest Lodge.

The bride's dress was a chapel-length French taffeta, with four panels and lace designs which were embedded with tiny pearls. It was a scoop neckline with a design of clustered pearls at the peak. She wore a finger-tip veil which was held by a crown of pearls, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white orchids, lily of the valley and bouvardia.

Her maid of honor, Lorene Timek, wore a red brocade dress, with a matching headband of red chiffon, and short white gloves. The bridesmaids, Flora Martinelli and Nevis Finos, of Fresno, were similarly attired. They all carried old-fashioned bouquets of baby white roses, lily of the valley and bouvardia.

Richard Landi, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Phillip Taurian and George Moro. The ushers were in black dinner jackets.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Ramona Landi, was dressed in an emerald green chiffon dress with a lace scoop neck. Her hat was green satin, also; as were her shoes and handbag. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Emilia Quattrin, wore a cocoa beige lace dress with matching brown accessories, and also wore a white orchid.

The bride's going-away dress was a two-piece mustard colored wool dress and burnt orange hat, with brown gloves, shoes and bag.

On returning from a Carmel and Las Vegfas honeymoon, Julie and Rudy will make their home at 369 Gavin street in San Francisco.

Julie, a graduate of Jefferson Union High School, has for the past six years been employed by the Wall Street Journal. She has been an active member of the I.C.F. and other organizations.

The groom has completed his service in the Army and is now employed in South San Francisco in a cabinet making shop.

In a Feb. 17 ceremony at the Holy Angels' Church in Colma, Gloria Diane Dematteí became the bride of Cosimo Anthony Alioto.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Angelo Dematteí, 169 First street, Colma, was attired in a delusterized satin gown with long sleeves, and wore a pearl crown with silk illusion.

Maid of honor was Miss Evelyn Dematteí. Bridesmaids were Miss Rosalie Ross and Miss Drena Cuaraidi. The attendants wore emerald green fitted dresses with white pearl crowns.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Alioto of 281 Amherst, San Francisco. Best man was the bride's brother, James Dematteí. Neil Fitzpatrick and Frank Alioto served as ushers.

The former Miss Dematteí attended Jefferson High School and San Francisco State College. She now teaches the fifth grade at Garden Village School in Colma.

The bridegroom attended Mission High School and now works for Pacific Telephone.

Quentin Artists Will Donate Handicraft

San Quentin's artists and craftsmen will donate their work to be sold at the City of Hope Bay Area Town Fair and Bazaar again this year.

Paintings, wood carvings, lamps, jewelry and hand-tooled leather goods are being contributed by inmates in the prison's arts and crafts programs, Warden Fred R. Dickson announced. At least one talented artist, paroled during the last year, is also donating his work.

Town Fair, a huge sale of a wide variety of donated new merchandise, is scheduled for Friday, March 16 through Monday, March 19, at the National Guard Armory, 14th and Mission Streets, San Francisco. Proceeds will go to finance research and free medical care in catastrophic diseases at the City of Hope National Medical Center.

One prison-trained artist, who contributed his work as an inmate to Town Fair last year, is now on parole but has volunteered to donate several wood carvings as his contribution to the fight against disease. His head of Christ, carved in wood, was a hit in last year's Town Fair sale of prisoners' are work.

"We feel that allowing inmate artists and craftsmen to make their own gifts to City of Hope is contributing to the rehabilitation of these men, which is of course the primary aim of the correctional system," Warden Dickson said.

Art and craft items to be contributed will be selected from among the prison's best work. The prisoners' gifts, which could be sold for high prices at the San Quentin artcraft stores, will be displayed at a special Town Fair booth.

Also on sale at bargain prices will be a long list of merchandise—groceries, clothing, furniture, appliances, housewares, hardware, paints, auto supplies, home furnishings, toys, notions, cosmetics and other items. City of Hope National Medical Center at Duarte, Calif., conducts research in such killer diseases as cancer, leukemia, heart, blood and chest disorders and offers free treatment to patients, referred by their doctors from throughout the nation.

W-2 Form Is Most Important Tax Document

The W-2 withholding tax statement is one of the most important documents for preparing a Federal income tax return, District Director Joseph M. Cullen of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in San Francisco said this week.

"Form W-2 should be carefully attached to the income tax return, but please do not use pins on the card Form 1040A," McCullen requested.

Director Cullen indicated that in a joint return, where both husband and wife worked, the W-2's for each must be attached.

"When either or both parties to a return held more than one job during 1961, all W-2's must be attached," he added. "If a W-2 form has not been received from an employer, attach an explanation."

Mr. Cullen advised that refunds cannot be paid nor can credit be given for taxes withheld, without required W-2's. Failure to include this statement will mean a delay in processing the tax return and refund.

Journalism Playday Held At Westmoor

Burlingame High School took first place trophy in the Journalism Playday held at Westmoor on February 17.

Second was San Carlos High, with Sequoia taking the third place trophy. Among the contests offered to seven San Mateo County schools that participated were current events, picture captioning, feature writing, cartooning, news writing, recording a happening, headlines, synonyms, and the final contest in which all participated, paper make-up.

Each school in San Mateo County was invited to send a team of four. Since there were four contests held each hour, the school teams separated. Ten points was awarded to the first place winner, five to the second, and three to the third. For the final contest hour, each school team worked as a unit to make up a dummy third page. Twenty points were awarded for winning this make-up contest with ten going to the second place winners and five to the team gaining the third slot.

Contest, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Lindfors and her journalism students, was designed to extend interest in high school journalism.

Journalism playday has been held at Westmoor for two consecutive years, and Burlingame has been the recipient of the first place trophy both years. Students from Burlingame placed either first or second in six out of nine contests. This gave them a winning score of 58 points.

Lunch of spaghetti, French bread, cold cuts and cake was served in the Westmoor cafeteria. Following the lunch, Jim Norton, student chairman, announced the individual contest winners and then the school trophy winners.

STAN GRAUBART, instructor in the Westmoor Adult Evening School, teaches one of 16 business education classes offered this semester.

Boxwoods For Boxing, And Garden Accent

You seldom see boxwood except in formally clipped rows of green. And perhaps it is understandable. For the boxwood's prim and proper habit makes it ideally suited to such use.

Never underestimated this versatile shrub, however. For left to grow without clipping, it assumes a billowy informal shape that is both easy to live with and a pleasure to look at. You can adapt it to use in foundation plantings, as a low, dense barrier or screen, as a container shrub for the patio or front porch.

The California Association of Nurserymen names several boxwoods on its list of most highly recommended shrubs, suggests that gardeners should become better acquainted with the different members of the family.

Historically the most commonly used box is the English Boxwood and it still claims precedence in our gardens. It grows taller, when allowed to, than the Japanese Boxwood but resembles the latter closely. Either of these can be clippd into a beautifully compact hedge or left to grow informally with only infrequent shaping.

Korean Boxwood is also similar to the above two, but is at once faster growing and more compact. This seeming paradox is explained by the fact that it quickly reaches its mature height of less than three feet. The leaves are lighter in color, slightly narrower than either the Japanese or English Box.

Round Leaf Box is just what the name implies. It is similar to Japenese Box, but the foliage is darker green and more oval in appearance. This is a good shrub to use informally as it assumes a naturally rounded habit. It is especially good in tubs.

Dwarfest of the lot and best suited as one of those miniature hedges used to box a flower bed is the True Dwarf Box. Close planting is recommended for this one.

Boxwood is partial to an enriched soil with plenty of organic matter in it. Liberal use of leaf mole and steer manure is recommended at planting time, and a manure mulch is helpful as the plants grow. It's worth your time to supply both.

Veterans Must File Exemption

War veterans who are planning to file for property tax exemption this year, between the first Monday of March and the first Monday of May, would do well to read carefully the following:

The Veteran's Exemption Form requires the listing of all property, both real and personal, owned, possessed or controlled by the claimant and/or spouse at 12 o'clock noon on the first Monday of March, including property located outside the County of San Mateo or the State of California.

Unfortunately, in 1961, certain veterans failed to disclose ownership of all their property and were referred to the District Attorney for appropriate action.

The Constitutional Amendment adopted by the voters of California in November, 1911, which contains a limitation of $5,000 for single veterans and $10,000 for veterans and spouse, clearly did not intend that all veterans would receive the exemption; the law was enacted for the purpose of assisting and encouraging the veteran, by means of this tax reduction, to establish a home for himself on his return from service.

It was anticipated that by this legislation, the veteran would finally reach the point where he could manage without assistance from the county.

All veterans are strongly urged by the County Assessor to complete and return the forms as soon as received in order that any errors or omissions can be corrected before the closing date for filing on the first Monday in May.

Keep your brakes tight and your driving attitudes right, advises the National Automobile Club.

Men Of Note Invite Sing For Funners

The Men of Note, a group of men that sing for fun, recorded the "official" 49er fight song. They also sheepishly admit to doing the same for the "bad guys," the Chicago Bears. This first waxwork also marked the tenth anniversary of the sing-for-fun group. In those ten years of music-making, the men have appeared before a wide variety of San Francisco service clubs, church groups and social organizations.

Each season ends with an annual concert that regularly draws an audience of five and six hundred. The Men of Note are always remembered for their distinctive musical stylings and director, Mrs. Mable Jacobs, the only woman of note the Men of Note allow. To understand why, come sing along with the group at their next practice.

This month the Men of Note begin tuning up for their concert season. They invite interested male singers to come by and lend an ear. If you like what you hear, you're welcome to join in on the singing fun ahead. Men of Note meets each Monday evening at the Sunset Recreation Center, 28th and Lawton. Between 7:30 and 9:30. For more information, telephone JU 4-8135.

Concert Assn. Member Drive In Full Swing

The annual membership drive of the North Peninsula Concert Association, organized to bring great artists to this area at a nominal cost, will be in full swing next week. Concerts are held in the beautiful new auditorium at Capuchino High School.

At a "Kick-off" dessert on Wednesday, February 28, enthusiastic workers learned from Miss Alma E. Lauritzen of the many fine artists who will be coming to the coast next season.

Here is a partical list of concerts which have been scheduled within a 25 mile radius this season: Mary Costa, Dorothy Warenskjold, David Abel, McHenry Boatwright, Roberto Iglesias, Ballet Espanol, Tuscon, Arigona Boys' Choir, San Francisco Symphony, and the Vienna Choir Boys.

Present and prospective members may send their checks —$6 for adults and $3.00 for students, payable to the North Peninsula Concert Association —now, to the secretary, Mrs. Frank Forst, 140 Park Ave., Millbrae.

The worker who sold the original membership will be given credit for the renewals and will have more time to invite new members. The drive ends March 10th at which time the membership will be closed. No tickets for individual concerts will be sold at the door.

Representatives in Daly City: Mrs. William H. Novales, 15 Eastgate Dr., PL 5-1740; Mrs. Francis G. Beukers, 43 Lakemont Dr., PL 6-1182.

Colma G-6 Children Make Ice Cream

A story in the children's reader provided the motivation for a unit on ice cream making in Mrs. Klaisner's first grade at the Colma K-6 school. Like the children in the story the boys and girls made their ice cream in a hand-turned freezer.

First the recipe was decided upon and the flavor selected by popular vote, then each ingredient was studied. They learned the origin of cane suger and beet sugar; vanilla and the plant from which it comes; eggs, milk and condensed milk. Several science lessons were concerned with the ice and rock salt necessary to the freezing process. The children learned about pint, quarts and gallons, in order to measure the ingredients.

Finally all was in readiness and Mrs. Klaisner brought the twenty-five pound block of ice which was quickly crushed by the boys in the class using a small sledge hammer. Then the children all took turns cranking the freezer and the ice cream was ready to be packed and left until after lunch when it was served in cones. A gallon proved enough for the thirty-two children in the class and a taste for the faculty, secretary and custodians as well.

How Much Can Anyman Take?

LACKADAY. DUARD DID NOT SHOW. And Jeff did not win.

Duard Farquart, despite his public posture, is as shy as a Rocky Mountain goat. And like the cloven-footed beast he went skittering away as soon as he was seen.

And I for one couldn't blame him less. It was simply too much—too soon. The poor fellow was beseiged on all sides by sycophants, curiosity seekers and funny boys. One guy wanted Duard to date his seven-foot daughter. Another said his picture was pretty funny, but anybody can see he's on stilts. One asked how big his feet were, and another if he'd ever been hit by a plane. The crowning indignity came when some piker said he bet he could lick him.

How much can any man take?

* * * *

DUARD, AFTER YEARS OF BLESSED anonymity, suddenly became the center of as much attention as if HE'D been shot around the earth in the Mercury capsule, and sadly, he just wasn't ready for it.

Duard Farquart

You see, things at Muy Alto had been different. Oh sure, he was important down there, no bones about that, he was their star and he got acclaim. But only on the court. He would play his game, do his best and then it was over. The rest of the week he was a student. He wasn't the BEST student, but he got his studying done. He earned his keep, like the other athletes, with a campus job (watering the sand-pile), and the rest of the time he'd ride around Muy Alto in his 1962 XK-E Jag, and no one would even notice. The XK-E stood out a little bit because most of the other athletes were driving MGAs or Healys or something, but after all, he was their Star. (Muy Alto is very open in its policies by the way, the regents are firmly against "rides," per se, but they believe in helping the boys along all they can. They believe that only a boy who is happy at Muy Alto will do his best for the team).

So anyway, Duard strong of mind to be a small fish in big pond instead of big fish in smallum pond, decides to chuck it all, and slip quietly into Jeff. And wham bang slap boom no sooner had he rolled into town in his unobtrusive ebony XK-E with seat covers made from the inside of a camel's stomach and interior of mahoghany and teak with pearl knobs and lemming-skin visors, than such tumult arose that he shrunk back in his boney seven foot six frame like a stricken potato bug.

What he had wanted most at Jeff was to be one of the gang. To be accepted not as some weird jock, but as the simple soul that he is. He was even ready to let some of the gang drive his car (assuming of course that they didn't give him a new one, but I don't know their policies up there. Anyway, the 63s aren't out yet).

He talked to me of wanting to find a girl friend. NOT a seven foot girl friend, but just a plain garden-variety girl. And it hurt, far deeper than I can express on a typewriter, to know that only this seven foot hustler was interested. And the other snide inquiries hurt. The size of his feet is nobody's business. The airplane inquiry deserves no comment.

And as for this fellow that want's to fight Duard, let it be known that we have nothing but the most profound contempt for the villian. Duard reminded me of a little story about Joe Louis, one time when some four-flusher got pushy with him.

Louis was riding around one day in his open convertible when some clod cut him off and then at the stoplight started to give him a bad time. He called him some of the vilest unprintables and challenged him to step out of the car. The poor devil obviously didn't know who he was messing with. Joe just sat there, looked rather bored at the fellow and drove off and left him, still yelling.

"How come you didn't flatten the oyster," says Joe's buddy as they drive off.

"What does Caruso do when somebody mouths off to him," says Joe, "sing him an aria?"

* * * *

SO FRIDAY NIGHT AT WESTMOOR, at precisely the moment the biggest and noisiest crowd of the year started the chants of WE WANT DUARD; WE WANT FARQUART, Duard was roaring along 101 heading back to Muy Alto. And I was forced to sit humbly, penitently, looking down at my feet. Sick at the spectacle.

For Duard wasn't ready. He is simply to sensitive about his heighth and must be treated gently—as if he weren't any different. After all, is there any one of us who doesn't feel conspicuous. Who doesn't feel that every eye is upon him as he crosses the street or walks up the aisle of the theatre? WE can all find solace in the simple knowledge that others are usually too concerned with what kind of an impression they're making to notice us one way or the other, (what color is your girlfriend's eyes)?

But for Duard, even the balm of that small insight is missing. For he not only feels conspicuous, but IS conspicuous. And we must learn to be ever so much more gentle.

* * * *

So he has gone back. Alarmed, but not afraid. But like Macomber, he just needs time to think. Every man will dwell on his frailities. He'll kick a bit and wish he were perfect. Duard is no different. These things lick you or you lick them. You don't change anything, you just don't give it any importance.

Duard will be back.

Rams Edge Indians In High-Scoring Friday Duel

In a game that could have been close, almost was, but really wasn't, the Westmoor Rams ran up their highest point total of the year in downing Jefferson last Friday night in the Westmoor gym, 70-64.

The Indians trailed all the way, but never by much. In losing, they too hit their highest total of the year, and also managed to exactly double their point total in the first Westmoor game.

The game started fast and close, with the Rams managing only a slim 18-17 first period edge. It was the second frame that ruined Jeff. While the Indians percentages were falling off, the steady hitting of Jim Lucke, Mike Daniels and Gary Allard was pulling the Rams away. The halftime score was 36-25, and it looked like it was all over.

But the Indians came back. They outscored Westmoor in both the last two periods, but couldn't overcome that second frame deficit.

It appeared that behind the deadly accuracy of Don Boden that Jeff might make it. Boden hit on three long jump shots and the score narrowed at one point to 44-38. Then with 1:19 left in the third period, Boden fouled out.

Play during the fourth period was spectacular. If either team could have hit all year like they did during this period, both teams could have been fighting for top spots.

Mike Daniels, probably the best player on the court, put on one of the best displays of ball handling and accurate shooting seen in a long time. He hit on at least three lay-ups in which he left the floor in the vicinity of the kay, and just drifted the rest of the way. Jim Lucke, who ended as Ram high point man, was deadly from the free throw line. Gary Allard controlled the boards and Steve Schmuck dropped one in just about every time the Indians seemed to be getting close.

And it took Westmoor's best effort in the fourth period to stop the onslaught of Jefferson. Hitting for 21 points during the last frame, the Indians virtually couldn't miss.

Rich Reitz, ending with 22 points, flipped in about half of them during this period. Larry Keeling hit on three sets in a row. Darwin Haanen was playing his usual harrassing game, continually pressing the Rams into bad passes.

The Indians always seemed to need just one more shot to get back into the game. They would get close, 63-60, 65-62, but it was always the Rams that hit the next bucket.

At 0:23, Lucke finally put it away with two free throws, 67-62. But even with only 23 seconds remaining, the two teams somehow managed to score five more points. There were five fouls during those remaining seconds. At 0:10 Haanen fouled out.

Then it was over.

The victory was the fourth in a row for the Rams and moved them ahead of Aragon into undisputed fifth place with a nine and seven record. Jeff slipped a little further into next to last place with the loss. The Indians are three and 13.

San Mateo clinched the championship during the week with a 62-55 win over South San Francisco.

League play ends this week with games on Wednesday and Friday. Westmoor with two wins could climb as high as third place.

It's SPARE TIME at Westlake Bowl

by Jim Grealish

With the end of the tournament next Sunday March 4 at midnight, Bert Heineman and Fred Powers continue to hold the lead in the second annual Westlake Handicap Doubles Tournament. Their 1720 total for four games put them a scant two pins ahead of Jim Marston and Ralph Ostergren and gained them the $50 weekly leader prize. In the Optional Singles, Larry Schultz maintained his hold on first place on his 705 total with Les Reams in second place with 692.

Thursday March 1 at 1 p.m. will find Westlake ladies getting an early peek at Easter fashions as the YWCA will hold its monthly Luncheon-Fashion Show at the Bowl. With fashions from J. C. Penney, the show is titled "Easter Silhouettes." Reservations may be made by calling the YWCA at PL 6-7370.

Young Phil Hargrove II continues to have his ups and downs. After bowling a tremendous 675 series in Friday night's 850 Scratch League, he shot an unreported series Saturday in the San Francisco City Tournament.

Dick Hayes is still riding high—leading in the Chronicle Tournament, third in the Westlake Doubles and Monday registering a 670 series in the 811 Scratch League on games of 221-245-204.

As usual, the American Masters 900 Scratch League provided a few 600 series. Primo Liberatore was the leader with 628 with a 225 high game while Ron Anguillo was a repeater, this time with 615 and a 246 high game.

There were two newcomers to the leaders circle in the Southgate Mixed Fives as Bud Rutherford with 205 and 558 led the men while Ann Menn was the leading lady with a 189 game and 446 series.

Ernie Viola of Montague's and Bob McNeilly of Mol-Mac Floors in the 805 Scratch League tied for high honors with 607. Ernie had a high game of 242 while Bob's best efforts were 205 and 209.

Lola Gambucci just missed the 200 mark but she registered a 513 series to lead the Evening Stars on a high game of 194.

Reservations are coming in fast for the St. Patrick's Day No-Tap Tournament, Buffet and Dance on March 17. As in the Valentine affair, there will be two vacations in Las Vegas as prizes to each winning man and lady. The total cost is $3 per person and reservations may be made with Rick or Primo.

Mac Stewart led the Golden Gate Handicap last week for the first time on a 568 series, including games of 207 and 204.

Ten-year-old Lynn Nolli of the Bantam Girls' League thought so much of Brunswick equipment that she made her own catalogue and sent it to Lloyd F. Brown, San Francisco Brunswick manager. He thought so much of it that he sent her a Brunswick ball and sent her work to the national office of the Brunswick Corporation. Mother Nolli of the A-1 Nursery League can be rightfully proud of her daughter.

Jean Wiitala made all members of the Broadmoor American Legion League sit up and take notice with her first series over the 600 mark — a big 604.

The Thursday Night National Masters 900 Scratch League set more than one Westlake record last week. Ted Hendrickson bowled the highest series in Westlake history when he posted games of 202-246-279 for a 727 total. In his third game, a stubborn four pin in the tenth frame broke his string of strikes. In addition to Ted's tremendous series, eight series over the 600 mark were registered with Hal Antrim's 652 leading the parade.

It was all "B" in the High Rollers Mixed Fives League as Bonnie Bastien and Bob Boffy were the leaders, Bonnie with 157 and 409, and Bob with 182 and 543.

MARY UHRIG, Esther Pavloff and Jody Adkins (l-r) line-em-up during the YWCAs weekly Tuesday morning outing at the Westlake Bowl. Swimming, golf and ice skating are among the other sports activities offered by the YW. For membership, times and other information call the YWCA office at PL 6-7370.

21-19 Score Marks BYA Baseball Tilt

Teachers Whip Students At Ben Franklin

Last week the Benjamin Franklin men's faculty took on the eighth grade recreation basketball team. The faculty won by a score of 31-29. The teachers were led in scoring by Bill Mendosa with 15 points, and Bob Daugherty with nine points. Others in the contest were Steve Rosa, two points. Karl Fleischauer, one point; Ross Davis, three points; Hal Bobrow, four points; Mike Dulac, two points, and Bob Langsam, Tim Corcoran, Vern Vandebur and Jerry Weine.
